Tenant-In-Common Association Hosts 5th Spring Symposium

INDIANAPOLIS — January 7, 2008 — The Tenant-In-Common Association (TICA) will hold its 5th Spring Symposium at the Grand America Hotel in Salt Lake City, Utah on March 11-13, 2008.

TICA's symposium brings more than 800 of the leading registered representatives, broker/dealers, sponsors, attorneys, CPAs, real estate professionals and investment professionals interested in tenant-in-common (TIC) transactions together to network and learn the latest trends in the TIC industry.

This year's three-day symposium will focus on the recent news of the National Association of Realtor's (NAR) Exemption Request to the SEC and other major regulations taking place in the TIC industry. Attendees will hear from experts and representatives from the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), NAR, ARELLO, NASAA and others to learn the opportunities and challenges the exemption will provide.

In addition, attendees will have the opportunity to attend a variety of educational sessions, interactive forums and roundtable presentations. These session topics include analyzing asset classes, due diligence for Regulation D offerings, reading and analyzing PPMs, handling troublesome deals, compliance and regulatory training for TIC investments and other current topics in the TIC industry.

Keynote speakers at this year's symposium include Anthony Downs and Michael Josephson. Downs is a senior fellow at the Brookings Institution in Washington, D.C. He frequently speaks on real estate economics, housing, transportation, smart growth and other related topics. Josephson is founder and president of the Josephson Institute, one of the nation's foremost ethics consulting companies. He has led more than 1,000 ethics programs for leaders in business, government, law enforcement and education.
